

Alternative Heat has responsibility and accountability for the environmental management system certified to ISO 14001:2015 (part of the Alternative Heat integrated management system (AH-IMS)) and is committed to carrying out its business operations in a manner which will not harm the environment. The company strives for high environmental performance in collaboration with all interested parties.

Alternative Heat will:

- Determine our environmental aspects and associated impacts
- Provide suitable working conditions and controls for the prevention of environmental harm
- Perform environmental risk assessments and eliminate or reduce hazards liable to cause environmental harm
- Ensure that site operations are carried out in a manner that prevents pollution of land, air, or water, and that minimises noise
- Provide appropriate fuel and chemical storage, waste management and associated activities
- Provide suitable spill kits and personal protective equipment for dealing with fuel or chemical spills
- Monitor energy and water consumption and reduce carbon emissions to address climate change
- Maintain plant and equipment to maximise efficiency and reduce emissions
- Provide information, instruction, training and supervision
- Provide and maintain emergency preparedness arrangements
- Ensure participation of all employees in environmental protection

Alternative Heat is committed to:

- The continual improvement of the management system and performance
- Compliance with applicable legal and other requirements to which the company subscribe
- Operating a system for setting and reviewing environmental objectives

The responsibility for environmental protection resides everywhere in the business. The Managing Director of Alternative Heat has overall responsibility for ensuring that the necessary resources are provided to implement and maintain the AH-IMS.

This publicly available policy is communicated to all employees and contractors, and everyone is responsible to support the policy by their practices.

This policy applies to all Alternative Heat offices and sites.
